

Dr. Mark Dolan specializes in hip and knee replacement surgery, hip resurfacing, and hip arthroscopy/hip preservation surgery.

Dr. Dolan is originally from South Bend, Indiana and a graduate of the University of Notre Dame. He attended Indiana University School of Medicine before moving to Chicago to continue his education in orthopaedic surgery as a resident in Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine's Department of Orthopaedic Surgery. After residency he completed a fellowship in Adult Reconstruction and Joint Replacement Surgery at the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York where he gained advanced training in hip and knee replacement surgery, hip resurfacing, and revision total joint surgery. Following this year long fellowship, he stayed at the Hospital for Special Surgery to obtain additional experience in providing care for young adults with hip pain. This included additional study in hip arthroscopy and hip preservation surgery.

Dr. Dolan has a specific interest in hip disorders and strives to provide comprehensive care to patients suffering from hip pain. This includes non-operative treatment as well as total joint replacement, hip resurfacing, and arthroscopic hip surgery (athletic hip injuries, hip joint preservation surgery, femoracetabular impingement (FAI), and acetabular labral injuries). Dr. Dolan utilizes this wide array of treatment options to best serve his patients, working with each patient to develop a focused and individualized treatment plan.

As a former varsity soccer player at Notre Dame and an active runner and skier, Dr. Dolan appreciates the importance of maintaining an active lifestyle. His goal is to relieve your pain and improve your mobility, thereby allowing you to return to an active life.
